Ernest et Célestine City Edition Voici quelque chose de très inhabituel : Ernest n'est pas venu réveiller Célestine ce matin. Et rien n'est prêt en bas à la cuisine pour le petit déjeuner... Quelques heures plus tard, tout s'éclaire : Ernest est malade ! Et c'est Célestine, très déterminée, qui se décrète garde-malade ! Dans cette histoire, Célestine s'improvise infirmière, cuisinière, animatrice... Et quel régal de voir les rôles s'inverser entre le gros ours et la petite souris !

Les albums souples d'Ernest et Célestine - Le sapin de Noël Getty Publications This work is a comparative study of nineteenth-century English-Canadian and French Canadian novel prefaces, a previously unexplored literary topic. As a study in Comparative Literature - with the application of a specific literary framework and methodology - the study conforms to theoretical and methodological postulates formulated in and prescribed by this framework when applied. This a priori postulate necessitates that the research on and the presentation of the Canadian novel preface be carried out in a specific manner, as follows. First, the study will establish the hypothesis that the preface to nineteenth-century English-Canadian and French-Canadian novels is a genre in its own right. This hypothesis will rest on the following: 1) a taxonomical survey of related terms meaning "preface"; 2) a survey of secondary literature of works dealing with the preface; 3) a discussion of the theoretical framework and methodology of the Empirical Theory of Literature and its appropriateness for the study of the preface; and 4) a discussion of the process of the compilation of the corpus of nineteenth-century Canadian novel prefaces (Chapter one). In a second step, the theoretical postulate outlined in the hypothesis will be put into practice by the development and production of a preface typology (Chapter two). In a third step, further tenets of the Empirical Theory of Literature will be tested on the corpus of the prefaces (Chapter three). In a fourth step, the prefaces will be analysed following the tenets formulated in and prescribed by the systemic framework applied (Chapter four).

Les albums d'Ernest et Célestine - Les plus belles histoires Syracuse University Press Dans la rue, Ernest entend une chanson. « Ce n'est pas une chanson, Ernest, c'est du violon ! » corrige Célestine. Mais la musique plonge Ernest dans un émoi inattendu. Les notes résonnent, les larmes coulent et les souvenirs reviennent. Ernest est bouleversé et Célestine ne comprend pas. Comment lui expliquer les chansons d'un autre pays, les chansons du passé, celles d'une autre vie ? Comment partager sa joie et sa nostalgie ? Une histoire très touchante sur l'origine, les souvenirs et l'héritage familial.

(Ed by T.K. Hervey) [and others]. Casterman Jeunesse Romaniste, auteur d'une thèse sur la mythologie hindoue, Michel Defourny répète volontiers qu'il est passé « du mythe au conte ». C'est par la porte des contes indiens qu'il est entré en littérature de jeunesse, domaine pour lequel il se passionne depuis plus de quarante ans. Chercheur, pédagogue, homme de terrain très attentif à la formation des bibliothécaires et des enseignants, ses recherches sur l'album jeunesse font autorité en Belgique et dans le monde. Ce recueil propose un florilège d'articles récents de Michel Defourny, extraits de la presse, de revues spécialisées et de contributions à des colloques universitaires. L'ensemble reflète la multiplicité et la pertinence des points de vue et des intérêts de l'auteur. Il est centré sur l'album, son origine et son histoire, ses liens avec la création artistique, son rayonnement actuel, notamment en Belgique francophone. Mais il s'aventure aussi au sein de domaines proches, comme celui de la comptine, du conte et du documentaire. Cet ouvrage intéressera tous ceux et toutes celles qui sont amenés à organiser la rencontre entre l'enfant et les livres. Il s'adresse donc avant tout aux instituteurs, bibliothécaires, puéricultrices. Mais aussi, de manière générale, à tous les « passeurs de livres ». Et bien entendu aux parents. Power and Pleasure Leuven University Press

Bim badaboum, le violon d'Ernest est tout cassé ! Pour le réparer, une seule solution s'offre à Ernest et Célestine : partir en Charabie à la rencontre d'Octavius le luthier. Mais à leur arrivée au pays des ours, ils découvrent avec stupeur que la musique y est désormais interdite. Pour Ernest et Célestine, c'est impensable ! Armés de leur courage et de leur ingéniosité, les deux amis lutteront contre cette injustice, jusqu'à ce que la joie revienne enfin en Charabie.

In this book some 25 scholars focus on the relationship between religion, children's literature and modernity in Western Europe since the Enlightenment (c. 1750). They examine various aspects of the phenomenon of children's literature, such as types of texts, age of readers, position of authors, design and illustration. The role of religion in giving meaning both in a substantive sense as well as through the institutionalised churches is studied from an interdenominational point of view (Judaism, Roman Catholicism, Protestantism and Anglicanism). Finally, the contribution of pedagogy and child psychology in the interaction between modernity, religion and children's literature is also discussed. Various articles give a broad overview of the tensions between aesthetics and ethics and the demand for cultural autonomy in the development of children's literature. Children's bibles and missionary stories played an important part in the growing diversification of children's literature, as did the publication of illustrated reviews for children. Remarkable differences are highlighted in the involvement of religious societies and institutions, episcopally approved publishing houses and supervisory bodies in the publication, distribution and supervision of children's literature. This volume adopts a comparative approach in exploring the underlying religious, ideological and cultural dimensions of children's literature in modern society.)

The Gospel According to Renan provides a new and holistic interpretation of one of the non-fiction sensations of the nineteenth century: Ernest Renan's Life of Jesus (Vie de Jésus). Published in 1863, Renan's book aroused enormous controversy through its claim to be a historically accurate biography of Jesus. While Life of Jesus provoked the ire of the Catholic Church in hundreds of sermons and pamphlets, it also sold hundreds of thousands of copies, making a fortune for its author and his publisher. Based on research into a huge range of print and manuscript sources, The Gospel According to Renan demonstrates how Renan's work intervened in a remarkable range of debates in nineteenth-century French cultural life. These went far beyond questions of religion, from the role of individuals in history to the meaning and significance of 'race'. Through an engaging reconstruction of Renan's intellectual formation, Priest shows how Renan's ideas grew out of the context of Parisian intellectual life after his loss of faith in the 1840s. Going beyond a traditional intellectual history, Priest uses a wide range of new manuscript sources, many of which have never been examined by modern historians, in order to reconstruct the ways that ordinary French men and women engaged with one of the great religious debates of their age. By tracing the legacy of Life of Jesus into the early years of the twentieth century, Priest finally shows how Renan's work found new political meaning in the heated debates over secularisation that divided French society in the young Third Republic. Changing France Walter de Gruyter GmbH & Co KG

KADOC Artes 8The art of illumination, usually associated with the Middle Ages, experienced a spectacular revival in nineteenth-century Western Europe. This completely different context gave the illuminations another import. The output of the lay and religious workshops reveals a great artistic, stylistic, technical, and thematic diversity. The works illuminated go far beyond the world of exceptional and precious manuscripts and include many occasional documents and devotional images. Richly illustrated with unpublished masterworks, The Revival of Medieval Illumination is an overview of the form by fifteen authors who do not limit their approach to the traditional questions of art history. Rather, they explore the historical, sociocultural, ideological and religious components of the revival, which changed according to time and country, in order to understand the evolution and success of the art of illumination in the long nineteenth century.

Les albums d'Ernest et Célestine - Ernest et Célestine - Le Voyage en Charabie Univ of California Press

This volume addresses new theoretical approaches in visual and memory studies that prompted to rethink of the photography of Russian Turkestan of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Attempts to relate the visual unknown documentations to postcolonial criticism also opened up new interpretive arenas, helping to decentralize the analysis of the history of photography. The aim of this volume is to interpret photography as a specific tool that reifies reality, subjectively frames it, and fits it into various political, ideological, commercial, scientific, and artistic contexts. Without reducing the entire argument to the binary of 'photography and power', the authors reveal the different modes of seeing that involve distinct cultural norms, social practices, power relations, levels of technology, and networks for circulating photography, and that determined the manner of its (re)use in constructing various images of Central Asia. The volume demonstrates that photography was the cornerstone of imperial media governance and discourse construction in colonial Turkestan of the tsarist and early Soviet periods. The various cases show the complex mechanisms by which images of Turkestan were created, remembered, or forgotten from the nineteenth until the twenty-first century. The book should appeal to scholars of the Russian Empire and Central Asia; of history of photography and visual culture; of memory studies. It should be appropriate for use in upper-level undergraduate courses, and even a broader public.
